JOHNNY CASH

BEYOND THE PERF

I grew up with Johnny Cash. My dad used to play his albums on our stereo — a piece of furniture that, back then, was the size of a sofa and whose only function was to play vinyl records. And we used to watch The Johnny Cash Show on our TV set during its run in 1969.

My dad thought Johnny Cash was one of the few authentic people in country music, but I was afraid of him. I was only 8 or 9 years old at the time, but this looming figure in black with the booming baritone voice frightened me when I saw him perform.

Over the many years since, my fear of Johnny Cash has turned into awe. Like my dad said, here was an American figure who embraced his weaknesses without losing the hope for a better life. His music poured out of a broken but expectant heart. There is no more apt picture of the American dream.

And so, when the Postal Service decided to honor this complicated but deeply influential man, I was once again filled with fear. How do you reduce a career that spanned 50 years to the size of a postage stamp? How do you capture the essence of a man whose art crossed nearly every musical genre?

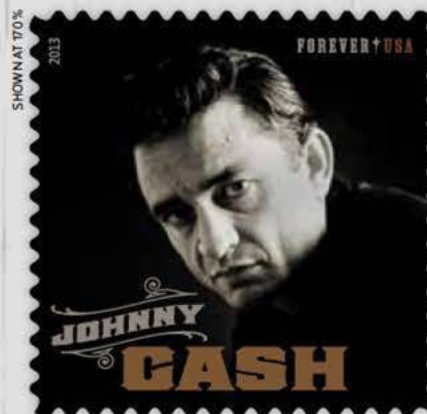

As I sifted through hundreds of photographs taken throughout his career, I began to gravitate toward a 1963 photo shoot by Frank Bez. Although there were several iconic images from the shoot, there was one of an almost grim Johnny Cash looking into the camera. And because it showed him peering out of a symbolic field of black, the portrait had the bold simplicity to be readable at stamp size.

This summer, the Johnny Cash stamp will be issued as the second issuance in the new Music Icons series — a series that celebrates the genius of those who have shaped the American music landscape. It has been my privilege and joy to design this stamp featuring "the Man in Black" — a man whose presence and music reflect both honesty and hope, both promises broken and dreams not yet realized.

A Johnny Cash — known to many simply as "the Man in Black"—is best remembered as a country music artist, though his influence can be felt in just about every other genre, from rock and folk to blues and gospel. His stamp is being issued this year as part of the exciting new Music Icons series.

A self-supporting government enterprise, the U.S. Postal Service is the only delivery service that reaches every address in the nation, 150 million residences, businesses and Post Office Boxes. The Postal Service receives no direct support from taxpayers. With 36,000 retail locations and the most frequently visited website in the federal government, the Postal Service relies on the sale of postage, products and services to pay for operating expenses. Named the Most Trusted Government Agency five consecutive years and the sixth Most Trusted Business in the nation by the Ponemon Institute, the Postal Service has annual revenue of more than $68 billion and delivers nearly half the world's mail. If it were a private sector company, the U.S. Postal Service would rank 26th in the 2008 Fortune 500.

A Continuing the Postal Service's tradition of beautiful issuances, these stamps feature photographs of antique seed packets printed between 1910 and 1920. Ten colorful blossoms — cosmos, digitalis, pinks, primrose, calendula, aster, linum, alyssum, phlox, and zinnias — are cropped to highlight their beautiful floral detail.

B Celebrating the 500th anniversary of the first Spanish expedition to Florida, these stamps evoke the beauty of the state's floral abundance. Known today for its towering palm trees, flourishing orange groves, and opulent displays of flowers, the state earns the name given by the Spanish in 1513 — La Florida.

THE CIVIL WAR 1863 A Nation Touched with Fire

But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate—we can not consecrate—we can not hallow—this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract.
Abraham Lincoln

But then 'tis past, the years are gone,
I'll not call up their shadowy forms;
I'll say to them, "Lost years, sleep on!
Sleep on! nor heed life's pelting storms."
"Lorena" Lyrics by Henry Webster

For a mile up and down the open fields before us the splendid lines... of the army of Northern Virginia swept down upon us.
They came half way down this slope, wavered, began to fire, then in haste
and then to run, and how our men did yell.
"Come on, Johnny, come on."
Rufus R. Dawes, 6th Wisconsin

VIEW
THE CIVIL WAR: 1863 FOLIO
on back cover!

...what armies and how much of war I have seen...
what thousands of marching troops, what fields
of slain, what prisons, what hospitals, what ruins,
what cities in ashes, what hunger and nakedness,
what orphanage, what widowhood, what wrongs
and what vengeance.
Clara Barton

Dogs howled through the streets at night,
cats screamed forth their hideous cries,
and an army of rats, making food, would scamper around your very feet.
William Tunnerd, 3rd Louisiana

C This souvenir sheet is third in a five-year series commemorating the 150th anniversary of the Civil War. Two stamps feature reproductions of iconic lithographic images from the Battle of Gettysburg and the Battle of Vicksburg.

D Old Glory waves proudly all year round in this pane of four stamps. Each design shows the American flag, viewed from below, flying from a pole at full staff against a background of trees that evoke one of the four seasons of the year.

Jointly issued by the U.S. Postal Service and La Poste of France, these stamps celebrate a lively two-way conversation between continents. Edith Piaf is one of the few French popular singers to become a household name in the United States; the great American jazz trumpeter Miles Davis, admired internationally, is especially beloved in France, where he performed frequently. ## THE CIVIL WAR 1862 A Nation Touched with Fire

DESIGNED BY JAMES H. HARTFORD

Future years will never know the seething hell and the black infernal background of countless minor scenes...and it is best they should not—the real war will never get in the books.

Walt Whitman

...the density of the smoke from guns and fire
rafts, the scenes passing on board our own ship and around us...It was as if the artillery of heaven were playing upon the earth.

David G. Farragut, USS Hartford

The shrieks of the wounded and dying were terrible, but they rallied and came at us again and our men again awaited until they came in range and again arose and covered them down...but they came again

James C. Steele, 4th North Carolina

O! how grand you stood before me,
In your suit of blue,
When you vow'd to me and country,
Ever to be true
"Weeping, Sad and Lonely" Lyrics by Charles C. Sawyer

Mr. Brady has done something to bring home to us the terrible reality and earnestness of war.
If he has not brought bodies and laid them in our door-yards and along the streets, he has done something very like it.

New York Times

D This pair of stamps depicting the Battle of
